

Cookies Policy

Last updated: (23th of July 2018)

Tradehouses (us", "we", or "our") uses cookies in its website www.tradehouses.co.

By using the above mentioned website you consent to the use of cookies.

Our Cookies Policy explains what cookies are, how we use cookies, how third parties we may partner with may use cookies, your choices regarding cookies and further information about cookies.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small pieces of text sent by your web browser by a website you visit. A cookie file is stored in your web browser and allows Tradehouses or a third party to recognise you and make your next visit easier and more useful to you.

Cookies can be "persistent" or "session" cookies.

How Tradehouses uses cookies

When you use and access the website, we may place a number of cookies files in your web browser. We use cookies for the following purposes:

- to enable certain functions of the Service,
- to provide analytics,
- to store your preferences,
- to enable advertisements delivery, including behavioural advertising,
- to authenticate users and prevent fraudulent use of user accounts.

We use both session and persistent cookies on the website

Thirdparty cookies

In addition to our own cookies, we may also use various thirdparties cookies to report usage statistics of the website, deliver advertisements on and through the website, and so on. At the moment this includes Google Analytics

What are your choices regarding cookies

If you'd like to delete cookies or instruct your web browser to delete or refuse cookies, please visit the help pages of your web browser.

Please note, however, that if you delete cookies or refuse to accept them, you might not be able to use all of the features we offer, you may not be able to store your preferences, and some of our pages might not display properly.
